Dear Judge Madsen,

You were interviewed by Art Snowden on October 25, 2006 for an Alaska Bar Historian's Committee/Alaska Court System oral history project, and the recording is currently stored in an archive jointly operated by the Alaska Court System and the Alaska Bar Association. With funding from the Alaska State Library, the University of Alaska Fairbanks Oral History Program is collaborating with the Historian's Committee to create an interactive web-based project where users can listen to oral history recordings as a way to learn about the history of our state's judiciary.

The interview was selected for this project and we would like to make the recording and transcript available on the Internet through our Project Jukebox website (www.jukebox.uaf.edu). I am happy to email a copy of the transcript if you wish to see what you talked about in the interview.

The Joint Archives of the Alaska Court System and Alaska Bar Association has a signed release form from you giving them permission to use the recording, but we wanted to let you know of our desire to use it in the Judges of Alaska Project Jukebox on the Internet. Please let me know if you have any concerns about Internet access.

I appreciate your time and look forward to any input you may have on the project.

Sincerely,

Karen Brewster
