On March 7, 2013 I did an interview with Charlie Edwardsen, Jr. (who goes by his Eskimo name of Etok) here in Fairbanks about his experience working at NARL. The recording should become part of the NARL series of other recordings I've done on this subject. I did it as a born digital audio only so saved the wav file titled Etok_Edwardsen_3_7_13.wav in the Oral History folder on the R drive. This way you can rename it, burn CD, and backup as you do for all your digital material. I have notes on the interview so I can provide a context statement but haven't yet have time to write this up. I'm also dropping the release form off to your office momentarily.

Thanks,
Karen
