I, Dennis Corrington (name) hereby grant the University of Alaska Fairbanks, Oral History Program the right to use digital copies of the following photographs from my personal collection for Project Jukebox. This is a multi-media, interactive computer program that uses audio or video recordings, photographs, maps, and written texts to tell the story of the people, events and places that have been a part of the history of Alaska. Copies of the Jukebox will be available at the University of Alaska Fairbanks and on the Internet. As technology develops, it may become available in other electronic formats. By signing below, I agree to these possible uses.

Due credit will be provided in the Jukebox to the undersigned as the owner and loaner of the photographs. By signing this agreement, I agree not to hold the University responsible for any possible misuse of the images by people who access the Jukebox.
