

2018-13-01/

NN CANNERY HISTORY PROJECT

Documenting
Cannery Work
People & Place

"THIS PROJECT IS GROUND-BREAKING AND IMPORTANT."
—JOAN M. ANTONSTON, ALASKA STATE HISTORIAN

STILL MORE WORK TO DO

To help the <NN> Cannery History Project continue to document cannery work, people and places, please consider making a donation that will support our collective efforts.

THE <NN> CANNERY HISTORY PROJECT WEBSITE
To learn more about <NN> Cannery History Project; to make a donation; or access the Artifacts & Experience Form; and Media & Material Consent Form, please visit our project website at nncanneryproject.com.

Contact us at: info@nncanneryproject.com

NN Cannery in 2016. Photo courtesy of Bob King.

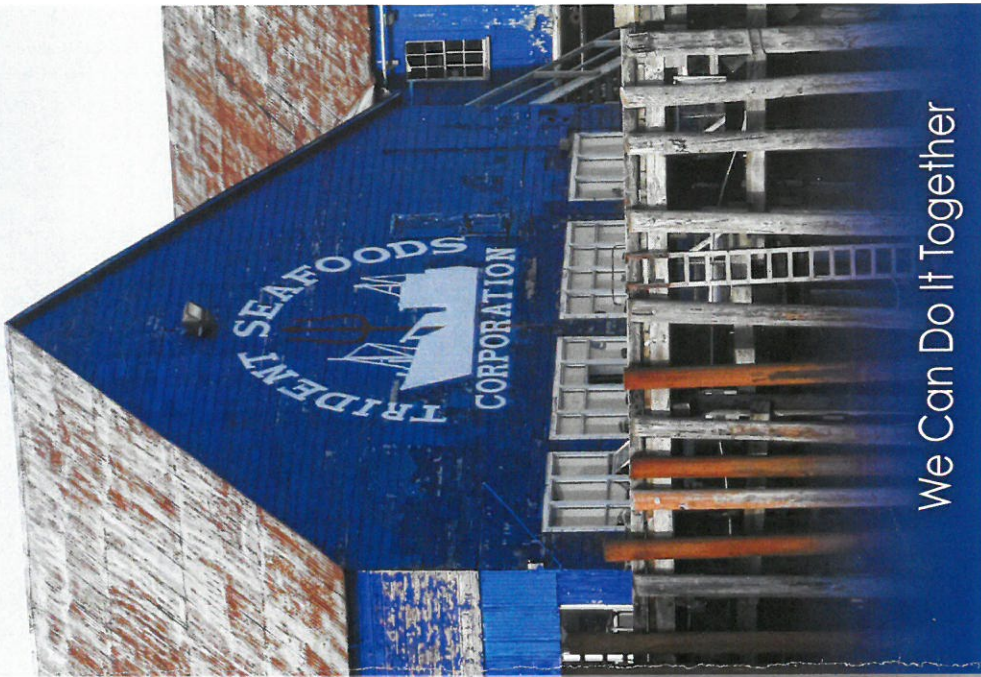

OUR PARTNERS

- ALASKA ASSOCIATION FOR HISTORIC PRESERVATION
- TUNDRA VISION
- SEA LEVEL CONSULTING
- STEELEBIRD PRODUCTIONS
- LARECE CONSTRUCTION
- NATIONAL PARK SERVICE
- ALASKA HISTORIC PRESERVATION OFFICE
- UNIVERSITY OF ALASKA FAIRBANKS
- ALASKA STATE MUSEUM
- AND
- TRIDENT SEAFOODS

NN Cannery at South Naknek, 2016. Photo courtesy of Tundra Vision.

Bob King at NN Cannery in 2016. Photo courtesy of Tundra Vision.

We Can Do It Together

CREATING A CANNERY COMMUNITY

"THIS IS AN OPPORTUNITY TO PARTICIPATE IN A PROJECT THAT GIVES PEOPLE A CHANCE TO SAVE A PART OF THEIR HISTORY"

—ADELHEID HERMANN, ED.D. FISHERIES | OCEANS & RESOURCE-BASED INDUSTRY TRAINING PROGRAMS | NAKNEK, ALASKA

THE PROJECT

The <NN> Cannery History Project calls attention to Alaska's vital cannery workers, and tells the human story of the industry.

Egg House Crew at South Naknek, 1978. Courtesy of Steven Connelly, San Jose, CA.

"AS A HISTORY BUFF, I AM VERY EXCITED ABOUT WHAT THE <NN> CANNERY HISTORY PROJECT IS DOING AND COMMEND THEM FOR THEIR EFFORTS."

—VIC SCHEIBERT, PRESIDENT ALASKA OPERATIONS, TRIDENT SEAFOODS

Through the support of a vast collaborative network, the <NN> Cannery History Project aims to deliver three programs that promote historic preservation, education, and public engagement:

- List the <NN> Cannery Historic Maritime District in the National Register of Historic Places
- Develop a Digital Storytelling Workshop for local youth
- Produce a community-curated exhibition about cannery work with the Alaska State Museum called Mug Up

Cannery workers find time for fun, pre-season 1978. Courtesy of Steven Connelly, San Jose, CA.

SHARE YOUR STORY

The <NN> Cannery History Project invites you to share:

- photographs
- videos & films
- poems & essays
- artwork
- memories
- artifacts that exemplify cannery activities

Japanese Egg House Technicians at Mug Up on the dock at South Naknek, 1988. Courtesy of Tundra Vision.

"OPEN THE PAGE

AND LET THE STORIES CRAWL IN BY THEMSELVES."

—JOHN STEINBECK, AUTHOR OF CANNERY ROW

To Make a Donation Visit mccanneryproject.com